

We're opening a new showroom in South Melbourne

Our new showroom in South Melbourne

The NEFF Kitchen is a place of discovery. It's where passionate home cooks go to find inspiration for new recipes and cooking techniques. Now, it has a more permanent home on Coventry Street in South Melbourne. Opening in February, the NEFF showroom will help you see (and test) the full range of NEFF appliances including ovens, cooktops, rangehoods and dishwashers, so you can find the perfect appliances for your dream kitchen.

Will the showroom be open to the public?

The NEFF showroom will open in February 2020. This newly refurbished space will be open to the public from Tuesday to Saturday every week, allowing you to come in and check-out the appliances at your own pace, five days a week.

Will all appliances be present in the new space?

Yes, the new showroom will be equipped with the full range of NEFF appliances including our ovens, cooktops, rangehoods and dishwashers that come in a range of different sizes. This means you can test every piece of equipment and decide if it is right for you.

Tell me about the live cooking demonstrations

The NEFF showroom will be another venue for our live cooking demonstrations, with a full equipped kitchen and large communal table, perfect for learning. During these presentations, home economists with real world cooking experience will provide tips and tricks for using your appliance to its full potential, including various features that are unique to NEFF.

Best of all, you can enjoy tasty food, fresh out of the oven, including delicious warm bread and oven-baked risottos. Click here for more reasons you should attend a NEFF product demonstration.
