

4 of the best berry smoothie recipes

Summer is for sunshine, seashores and – not just for the sake of alliteration – smoothies. Not just any smoothies either: the best, freshest, perfectly icy, creamy and delectable seasonal berry smoothies that you can imagine.

Whether you've got some frozen berries stocked in the freezer or a fresh haul from the berry farm, there is nothing more delicious and simple than whipping up a quick round of smoothies in the blender. Kids love guzzling down a sweet, creamy glass of strawberry goodness, whilst friends and family will adore sipping on a refreshing cherry number in the summer sun.

Here are our four favourite berry smoothie recipes for your next get-together, using all different types of berries:

1. Mixed Berry Magic

serves approx. 4

Perfect for repurposing berries leftover from other recipes. This creamy smoothie is a sure favourite for any summer occasion – top with a sprinkling of toasted granola, shaved chocolate and a swirl of raspberry coulis:

- 5 cup frozen berries
- 2 cup chopped banana
- 1 cup milk or yoghurt
- handful of ice
- honey or maple syrup to taste

2. Boozy Cherry Ripe

serves approx. 4

Who says smoothies all have to be healthy breakfast drinks? Replace your sundowner cocktail with this proudly Australian blended boozy number:

- 1 cup frozen pitted cherries
- ½ cup coconut cream
- ¼ cup shredded coconut (toasted or raw)
- a dash of vanilla essence

- ½ cup frozen raspberries
- 2 tbsp cacao powder
- 4 shots cherry liqueur (optional)

3. Strawberries and Cream

serves approx. 4

This treat isn't just reserved for the Wimbledon courtside. Put a smile on your guests' faces with a creamy strawberry blend, topped with sliced strawberries and mint sprigs:

- 1 cup fresh strawberries
- ½ cup yoghurt or ice cream
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- handful of ice

4. Peachy Blueberry

Serves approx. 4

Cure your guests' blues in a heartbeat thanks to this creamy blueberry option:

- 1 cup frozen blueberries
- 1 cup almond milk
- ½ cup yoghurt
- 4 tbsp honey
- handful of ice
- 4 small chopped peaches
