Remove the mandarin pieces from the liquid and process until smooth, allow to cool.

Continue cooking the syrup for another 3-5 minutes or until slightly thickened. Strain the syrup and discard the spices.

Beat the butter and sugar in a bowl with an electric mixer until pale and creamy. Add the eggs one at a time and beat well. Fold through the almond meal, cornflour and mandarin purée until smooth. Pour the mixture into a greased and fully lined 20cm cake pan . Bake for 45-50 minutes or until cooked when tested with a skewer. Cool the cake for 5 minutes then turn out of the pan. Place onto a cooling rack and drizzle with half of the warm syrup.

Drizzle a little syrup over the serving plates, top with slices of cake and some extra syrup. Serve with cream.

Notes

If the syrup becomes a little thick on standing, thin to the desired consistency with a little boiling water.
